BRIEF COURSE DESCRIPTION

---

In professional and higher education contexts, students need to use their knowledge and written expression skills in order to produce advanced academic and/or technical texts effectively. Apart from the thematic contents, in order to be able to produce texts in English which are suitable for international academic activities and communicative situations it is necessary to know how to use written composition regulation processes, including text planning and review. The aim of this course is for students to become familiar with the linguistic strategies and mechanisms that allow the effective writing of correct, appropriate texts. Autonomous learning, creativity and digitalization will be worked on with a blended learning approach.

BASIC SKILLS

LEARNING METHODOLOGY

The learning methodologies planned for this subject contemplate different activities that contribute to develop the skills related to this course. Some of the learning activities that will be developed are the following:

- Lectures
- Case studies
- Discussions
- Practical exercises
- Problem-based learning

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

---

The assessment system measures the student's achievement of learning outcomes regarding the subject's competences and contents.

Students may choose continuous assessment or single assessment:

Continuous Assessment: the teaching-learning process is assessed by a continuous monitoring of the work done by the students throughout the course and a final individual examination. Students must attend classes in order to be assessed by continuous assessment.

Single Assessment: for those students who cannot come to class regularly, they can choose to be assessed by single assessment. The teaching-learning process is assessed by means of the assessment of all activities and in-person individual examination at the end of the course.
